The latest treatment at the Rejuvenation Clinic offers patients a safe and highly effective way to regain youthful body shape and definition – no surgery required

Just when it seemed that cosmetic science couldn't surprise us any more, along comes a treatment that's got us inspired all over again. The latest cutting-edge procedure at the Rejuvenation Clinic & MediSpa is Zeltiq CoolSculpting, an FDA-approved, non-surgical, non-invasive and safe method of removing unwanted body fat without any of the risks, scarring or recovery time of liposuction – and at a fraction of the cost.

Designed by top dermatologists at Harvard, CoolSculpting uses simple cooling technology to expand the water in fat cells until it breaks down the fat cell itself. Suitable for use all over the body, it has been proven to permanently remove 25 per cent of fat treated per treatment.

Only one 60-minute session is required, normal activities can be resumed immediately afterwards and, best of all, it is completely painless. Effects can be seen as quickly as three weeks post-treatment, but the most dramatic results come after about two to three months.

Harley Street's renowned Rejuvenation Clinic & MediSpa is one of only two clinics in the UK to offer CoolSculpting. Founded by Dr Mario Luca Russo, a widely recognised authority on anti-ageing whose clients include A-listers and royalty, the clinic has long been dedicated to restoring younger-looking skin without surgery. Dr Russo was the first cosmetic surgeon in the UK to introduce the Fraxel laser – used to counter wrinkles, sun spots, fine veins, acne and surgical scars with rapid healing and minimal recovery time – and has performed more than 2,000 treatments without any complications. The clinic also offers 'baby' Botox, skin-tightening Thermage and PRP/stem-cell procedures.

With innovative anti-ageing treatments and cutting-edge technologies, the Rejuvenation Clinic & MediSpa is a one-stop medical practice to help you start looking young again.
